

The "Four Elements" of the Alchemists' Table of Elements

What are alchemists? Alchemists worked in medieval times (~ 1500 AD) under the order of kings to create gold by appropriately mixing of what alchemists believed are the four basic elements: Air, water, earth, and fire. Unfortunately, this line of research never proved to be successful.

